Man, 103, Remarries His Former Wife, 65

CLINTWOOD, Va. (AP)—Booker Wright, 103, leaned just a little on his cane as he stood before the minister and repeated his marriage vows.

The retired farmer from Virgie, Ky., was married Monday in the Clintwood Baptist church to Elsie Coleman, 65, of Pikeville Ky., the seventh marriage, the bride said, for each.

It was the second time they had married each other.

Asked where they would spend their honeymoon, Wright replied: "She's all the honeymoon I want. We're going home."

UAW 'No' To Ford Contract

Will Urge Council To Reject Offer On New Contract

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers Union today notified Ford Motor Co. it considered Tuesday's contract offer "totally unacceptable" and said it will urge the Ford-UAW council to reject it.

The UAW said its 13-man Ford National Council, representing Ford workers throughout the nation, would meet in Detroit Aug. 29—two days before the contract expires—to take action.

Malcolm Denise, Ford vice president of industrial relations, said the union "took quite a bit of time at our two-hour meeting this morning to tell us it was a lousy proposal and they didn't know how we had the audacity to put it before them."

He said the union described the Ford offer as "hopelessly inadequate."

The strong UAW reaction to the Ford offer came as the union and American Motors Corp., clamped a secrecy lid on new contract talks.

Company and union spokesmen said UAW President Walter P. Reuther and AMC Vice President Edward L. Cushman were meeting at an undisclosed location for what Reuther said Tuesday would be intensified negotiations on the company's profit-sharing proposal made July 28.

Also attending the closed-door talks was Norman Matthews, head of the UAW Chrysler and AMC departments.

Both AMC and the UAW said: "There will be no further announcement on progress or lack of it."

"We feel at this time there is a better chance of making progress without making public statements," spokesmen for the company and union said.

NEWS BRIEFS

MORE GATES SHUT

BERLIN (AP)—The East German Communists slammed five more gates to East Berlin shut to Westerners today and segregated traffic from West Berlin into three channels. Street openings in the barbed wire and stone barricade the Reds have strung along the 25-mile border through the city were reduced from 12 to 7. Four openings were restricted to West Berliners, 13,000 of whom cross into East Berlin daily to work. Two more were set aside for West Germans.

EAGLE EYE ON JAPAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States intends to keep an eagle eye on newly elected Premier Cheddi Jagan to see whether he will try to steer British Guiana into the Communist bloc.

If Jagan tries to link up with Moscow — Peiping, representations can be made to British to postpone complete independence for the newly emerging South American country.

TAX PLAN PIGEON-HOLED

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Ways and Means Committee today pigeon-holed President Kennedy's tax-revision program until next year.

The decision at a closed-door meeting ended the last hope of the administration for an interim program this year that would hold out tax-credit inducements for businesses to spend on plant modernization and make up the lost revenue by various tightening and loop-hole closing changes.

FIRE CLOSE AN AIRPORT

ST. JOHNS Nfld. (AP)—Forest fires virtually closed Gander's International Airport today and swept into the northeast coast town of Carmanville.

The huge airport was open only to emergency flights of fire fighters, and to commercial planes willing to use it at their own risk.

RESIST PRESSURE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U.N. members seeking France's withdrawal from Tunisia resisted strong pressure today to soften their resolution before the special session of the General Assembly.

Britain and African nations still allied with France were working behind the scenes to water down the resolution submitted by 31 Asian-African nations and Yugoslavia. The object was to win support of the United States and other friends of France, by removing implied censure of French actions in Tunisia.

May Total $5 Billion

Huge Tax Losses Seen In Gamblers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., of the Senate Investigations subcommittee said today it appears that professional gamblers may be evading a tax liability of as much as $5 billion a year.

Mortimer M. Caplin, Internal Revenue commissioner, had testified to the committee that collections under the federal wagering tax laws during the last fiscal year totaled only slightly over $7 million as compared with an estimate 10 years ago they would produce about $400 million yearly.

"We had sworn testimony here yesterday that off-track wagering on horse races totals about $50 billion a year," McClellan said.

"If a tax of 10 per cent should be collected on that amount it appears the cost to the government is $5 billion a year. Cut those statistics in two and the government is losing $2 billion or $3 billion."

"The gamblers are paying a little over $7 million out of a $5 billion obligation."

McClellan said "it seems a kind of mockery on our part to keep a law like this on the books and not enforce it."

Caplin said the Treasury Department and his agency have under consideration proposals for tightening up the law.

He said the law imposing special federal taxes on bookmakers and other gamblers contains self-defeating provisions. The Internal Revenue Service has never had enough men to enforce it properly, he said, and sentences imposed by the federal courts for gambling-stamp tax violations are generally mild.

However, he emphasized that he was not criticizing the courts. Caplin testified in the second day of hearings by the Senate Investigations subcommittee into the activities of organized crime. The special emphasis of the hearings is on the question of whether new federal laws are needed to combat the underworld.

Caplin testified Congress had passed the special gambling tax laws with the idea they would produce $400 million a year in revenue.

Hambletonian Preview Highlights Program

The Missouri State Fair was dedicated today as Governors' Day. Official ceremonies were held at the main entrance upon the arrival of Lt. Gov. Hilary Bush, representing Gov. John M. Dalton who is out of the country on vacation.

The Whiteman Air Force Base color guard met Governor Bush and led a procession to the Administration Building, where Commissioner of Agriculture Don Thomason, and Fair Secretary W. H. "Chubby" Ritzenthaler, welcomed the governor to the 59th Annual Fair.

Bands which marched in the parade were from the high schools of Laddonia, Glasgow, Jasper and Beyler, Mo.

Lt. Gov. Bush officiated over the governor's luncheon at the Administration Building at noon and at the governor's dinner at the Sedalia Country Club. Presentation of the various governor's trophies was by governor Dalton's son John Hall Dalton, Kennett, Mo.

Highlighting the program for the day was the Hambletonian Preview, the Matron Stake for 3-year-old trotters, with an estimated purse of $20,000. These same horses will run in the Hambletonian event at the Du Quoin (Ill.) State Fair next week.

The 24 candidates for Queen of the Fair paraded down West Fourth to Osage and onto Broadway for the trip to the fairgrounds at 11:30 this morning led by highway patrol motorcycle officers. Final queen judging is tonight.

Included in the motorcade were several state officials.

Attendance Down

The attendance Tuesday dropped 2,823 paid admissions. The day total was 10,860 compared to 13,683 in 1960. The four day total comparison for paid attendance was 88,779 for this year compared to 79,173 in 1960, a gain so far this year of 9,606.

In the hobbies department the Grand Champion ribbon in miscellaneous collections went to Nobel M. Wade, Marshall, for his collection of cuff links, tie clasps and watch fobs connected with heavy equipment and company identification plates from old bugs, jeeps and carriages.

Ance Neimeyer, Bowling Green FFA member came through to win two top honors in the FFA Swine spotted hog show, taking both the champion barrow and female honors. Le Roy Kern, Polo, Mo., had the champion barrow.

The open class Hampshire swine show was unusually large this year. Grand champion barrow and champion barrow honors went to Ray Davenport, Thompson, Mo., Paul Belts, Gravette, Ark., the reserve grand champion barrow, grand champion sow to Rubin Edwards, Middletown, Mo., who also had the reserve grand champion sow.

A Green Ridge Winner

In the FFA Berkshire swine the champion barrow entry was that of Wade Lindstrom, Green Ridge, Farrell Whitaker, Ridgeway, Mo., had the champion sow, and the champion barrow shown by Kenneth Burns, Stet, Mo.

John E. Atkinson, Bowling Green had both the grand champion barrow and sow in the Hampshire division of the FFA swine show. Champion barrow and reserve champion of three barrows, entries of J. C. Koontz, Stet. Wil.

Pirates Kill Five Crewmen; Steal $20,000

MANILA (AP)—Pirates with machineguns and pistols killed the captain and five crew members of a Philippine Moro vessel and escaped with $20,000 in cash and jewelry, the Philippine News Service reported today.

Eight pirates shot the six two hours after the vessel Agusan had left Davao City Monday night. Passengers were held up at gunpoint and stripped of cash and jewelry.

The ship limped into Santa Ana Tuesday with the bodies of the victims.

A police report said the pirates raped one woman, molested another and took along four hostages when they fled in the ship's launch toward swamplands near Santa Cruz.

Platform Space Shot A Failure

Second Stage Fails to Separate From Its Payload

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla.

(AP)—The United States fired a satellite launch platform into orbit today but it failed to send a piggy-back payload on a projected million mile round-trip into space.

Nevertheless, scientists expected signals from the space craft to yield some measure of valuable data. The purpose of the flight was to test techniques for launching future vehicles to the moon, Mars and Venus.

A powerful Atlas-Agena rocket blasted off at 5:04 a.m. The Agena second stage spun into a "parking orbit" from which the 675-pound payload, Ranger I, was to have been flung into space.

The Agena, with power shut off, was designed to follow its orbit for 14 minutes until it reached a proper point before reigniting to build up speed to 23,800 miles an hour and kick Ranger loose. Ranger was intended to go into a highly elliptical orbit with a high point of 500,000 miles. The Agena was to continue on a path about 100 miles up.

But the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced 3½ hours after the launching that the Agena rocket stage and the space craft are in a near earth orbit rather than the highly eccentric orbit planned for the flight.

Exact orbit details were not known. It is possible, an official said, that the two vehicles are in separate orbits, close together. NASA said radio data are being studied to determine what went wrong.

Officials said radio data from the orbiting vehicle is being analyzed to determine why Ranger I did not separate.

"Primary mission of the flight was to test operation of the space craft. Since data are being received it is likely that this objective will be achieved in part," they said.

Earlier James D. Burke, Project Range manager, had reported all communication lost. At that time it could not be determined whether any part of the device had gone into orbit.

Tent Catches Fire After Fireworks Show at the Fair

The first run by the fire department at the Missouri State Fair grounds came Tuesday night following the fireworks in front of the grandstand. A tent housing a large number of show horses caught fire and three large holes were burned in the canvas covering.

Sparks from a drifting fireworks display were blamed for the fire which was extinguished by horsemen in the tent at the time. They were able to throw water high into the air to extinguish the fire before the fire truck arrived. Fireman with pump buckets continued to shoot water into the canvas area as a precautionary measure.

The tent housed two quarter horses and several Appaloosa horses.

Assistant Fire Chief George Smethers reported the fact the canvas was fairly wet from the rain which fell during the day probably kept the fire from spreading throughout the canvas top.

Tanks and Infantry Up to Sector Border

Latest Red Restrictions Cause Alarm

BERLIN (AP)—The three Western Allies pushed tanks and infantry up to the sector border dividing Berlin today in the face of new Communist restrictions on traffic between the East and West parts of the city.

"The commandants are taking the necessary action to insure the security and integrity of the sector border," said a spokesman for the U.S., British and French commandants.

Patton tanks from the U.S. Army appeared at the Friedrichstrasse crossing point, which the East German Communists now insist must be used by all foreigners going into East Berlin.

For the first time since the Reds set up barricades 10 days ago to halt the flow of refugees, the East German regime was telling Americans and other Westerners where they could or could not enter East Berlin. Western officials condemned the restrictions as illegal effrontery.

The East German regime overnight had shut five more gates to East Berlin.

The Western Allies responded within a few hours, sending forces right up to the sector borders. Within minutes the Communists brought up reinforcements on their side of the wall of barbed wire and concrete they have erected to strangle free movement in the city.

West German border police said they saw armored personnel carriers packed with Communist people's police—who are armed as infantry—move up to positions facing the Allied troops.

The Communists threatened to cut West Berlin's rail links with the West.

West Berlin trade unionists have been picketing the Communists.

Red Patrol Boats Nab Jap Fishermen

TOKYO (AP)—Soviet patrol boats seized 12 Japanese fishing boats off the east coast of Japan's northernmost island of Hokkaido today, the Maritime Safety Agency reported.

The agency said three speedy Russian boats dashed into a fleet of about 250 fishing craft operating near the Russian-held Kurile Islands and captured 12 of them.

nist-run elevated stations in West Berlin, and claim they have greatly reduced the number of passengers — and Communist revenue. They have carried such placards as "Don't buy your own barbed wire."

A statement by the Western military commandants on the new restrictions said the three Western commandants "take a most serious view of the effrontery of the East German authorities in warning citizens of West Berlin to keep at a distance of 328 feet from the sector border, a border which the Communists themselves have violated on numerous occasions in the last few days. The commandants are taking the necessary action to insure the security and integrity of the sector border."

By State Legislature

Another Record Spending Session

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Missouri's legislature sets a record for spending every time it meets.

The 1959 session did it with an appropriations total of more than $1,154,000,000. The 1961 session topped that with a total of more than $1,267,000,000.

Why does it cost so much more to run the state government every two years—even when administrators and legislators agree on the need for economy?

Charles D. Trigg, comptroller and budget director, has come up with a summary of 1961-63 appropriations that gives some of the answers.

In general the increase this time comes from (1) salary increases, (2) addition of more personnel in state agencies, and (3) establishment of new state programs and expansion of old ones. Take salaries. Most state employees will get increases during the next two years and for most of them it will amount to about five per cent.

A few agencies—the Division of Welfare, mental hospitals, state sanatorium at Mt. Vernon and the Ellis Fischel Cancer Hospital at Columbia—got enough money for two such increases in the next two years.

The colleges and universities got even more as part of the drive to put their faculty salaries on a par with national averages. In addition a long string of local and state officials whose salaries are set by law got increases. The rate for legislative employees went up from $10 to $12 a day. The rate for supreme, appellate and circuit judges was increased by a flat $4,000 a year so that Supreme Court judges now get $22,500 a year.

And legislators increased their own salaries from $125 a month to $400 a month under a constitutional amendment approved by the voters last fall.

The biggest single increase was from $12,000 for the director of the Resources and Development Division to $17,500 for the director of the new Division of Commerce and Industrial Development which succeeds the old agency Oct. 13.

Spade Cooley Given Life For Murder

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP)—Spade Cooley, who parlayed six cents and an old fiddle into fame and fortune as the "king of Western swing," was sentenced to life in prison Tuesday for the brutal murder of his wife.

The unexpected climax of the case followed a dramatic meeting between opposing attorneys and Superior Court Judge William L. Bradshaw while Cooley was preparing to show he was insane April 3 when he beat and stomped his wife, Ella Mae, 37, to death.

The jury which Saturday found Cooley guilty of first-degree murder was to rule first on the insanity plea and then set the penalty of Cooley, born Donnell Clyde 50 years ago in a storm cellar near Pack Saddle Creek, Okla., was judged sane.

The nickname Spade came after the entertainer once drew five spade flushes in a poker game. After the conference in Judge Bradshaw's chambers, Cooley's attorney, P. Basil Lambros, conferred for more than an hour with his client, who then waived his right to a sanity trial and also waived his right to have the jury set the sentence.

Persons serving life sentences in California normally are eligible for parole after seven years.

Atlas Is Launched Ending Big Project

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: My 23-year-old daughter is so gorgeous that it may ruin her life.

Ever since she was a little tot she has had no girl friends. The youngsters her age were all jealous of her because she got so much attention from adults. As she grew older her troubles increased. The girls at school considered her stiff competition and they left her out of everything.

Now she is so beautiful that she has a problem with men. They are always fighting over her. Wherever she goes, heads turn and her escort has to defend her or hit somebody for making a fresh remark.

Please tell me what can be done about this unusual problem. I'll bet you've never had one like it.

— CURSED OR BLESSED?

Dear C or B: The girl's problem isn't her beauty—it's her mother. Your emphasis on her good looks all these years has given her a preposterous notion of how the world works.

Your daughter's lack of friends is no way related to her looks. She simply never learned to stop thinking of herself long enough to think about others. Her inability to interest people was rooted in her inability to show interest in them.

Beauty is a problem only when the person who has it uses it as a whip or a crutch. And then it becomes a curse instead of a blessing.

Dear Ann Landers: I attended a funeral the other day and there was plenty of conversation about what went on there. I'd like your opinion. The man who was buried had been married twice. His ex-wife sat in the second row, directly behind the widow. She brought her mother along and the two of them made more noise than the widow and her mother.

What I'd like to know is this: Is it considered proper for an ex-wife to attend the funeral of her former husband? My husband has an ex-wife running around loose and if anything happened to him I wouldn't want her around.

— THE MRS.

Dear Mrs.: It is perfectly proper for an ex-wife to attend the funeral of her former husband if she wishes. She should, of course, stay well in the background.

The only way to keep unwanted people away is to have a private funeral, which means only those who have been invited may attend.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm going with a man who keeps me in a constant state of turmoil. I never know for sure if he's going to show up for a date. He has the dandiest list of alibis you ever heard. Every one is air-tight and water-proof. He can always produce witnesses.

In the meantime he never has a dime on him although he has a wonderful job and has been

YOU MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS AND NOT KNOW IT

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms...ugly parasites that medical experts say infect 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it. To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... small, easy-to-take tablets... special sizes for children and adults.

Cute Blonde Caddies For Joe Kennedy

CANNES, France (AP)—When President Kennedy's golf-loving father, Joseph P. Kennedy, strolls off the tee at his favorite Riviera course, most eyes stay glued to his caddy.

She is Françoise Pellegrino, a dark-eyed blonde.

The girl and the millionaire onetime U.S. ambassador to Britain have become fast friends during the five years Françoise has been pulling his golf cart around exclusive Biot Course.

"I call him 'Joe', and he calls me 'Françoise'," she said. "I talk to him as I would my father."

Françoise is perhaps the first person on the Riviera to know when Kennedy is coming for a holiday because "he writes me two months before so I'll be available to caddy."

The pert, pug-nosed blonde describes the head of clan Kennedy as "a wonderful man — really down to earth."

"Monsieur Kennedy is very generous," she said. "Every Christmas he sends me a gift and on my birthday I get a case of champagne. I invite the neighbors in and we drink to his health."

Françoise's father was a bricklayer. Her golf course career began when her parents died in 1954 and she had to help support a younger brother and two infant sisters.

"I lived next door to the course, so one day I went over and asked for a job," said Françoise.

At first she was puzzled by the gawking tourists when she and Kennedy walked around the course. She asked Kennedy what all the fuss was about and he replied:

"Why, because you're prettier than Brigitte Bardot, my dear."

Kennedy usually plays in a morning twosome with Soan Hedegard, retired Danish industrialist. Kennedy's wife, Rose, also an avid golfer, plays in the afternoon because — as Françoise put it — "Monsieur Kennedy plays too well for her." Françoise said her boss shoots in the low 70s "steady as a clock."

Françoise didn't speak a word of English when she started as Kennedy's caddy. He bought her English lessons and now they jabber like father and daughter as they stroll around the sunny course.

What do they talk about? Not politics or the international situation, said Françoise. They talk frequently about a 3-year-old lady in the White House—Caroline Kennedy.

"I think he has a regular adoration for Caroline," Françoise said. "One day he told me, 'That Caroline is a regular little devil. She telephones me every time she does something — and she telephones me often.'"

On Sept. 2 Françoise plans to be married to Lucien Autiero, 22, a businessman of nearby Venice. Kennedy is extending his Riviera vacation to attend the ceremonies at the city hall and church.

Will that end Françoise's caddy career? Maybe not.

"I told Monsieur Kennedy that when I have a baby I will bring it with us in the golf bag," Françoise said.

"And he said, 'O.K.'"

Father Admits Slapping Girl Before Death

LAMAR, Mo. (AP)—Prosecuting Attorney Gordon Boyer of Barton County said Donald Ray Clark, 27, admitted Tuesday he slapped his 11-month-old daughter shortly before she died June 30.

Clark is being held in the Barton County jail on a second-degree murder charge in the death of his 2½ month old son on Aug. 14.

Clark's farm is in both Burton and Vernon counties and the slapping of the baby girl took place in the Vernon County part.

Boyer said he will give his information to Vernon County officials.

Clark's daughter, Mary Virginia, underwent brain surgery in a Kansas City hospital and died two days later. She was believed to have died from a fractured skull.

Says X-ray Exposure Could Be Cut Down

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A radiation expert says exposure to X-rays could be reduced 67 per cent without hampering the quality of medical treatment.

Dr. D. W. Moeller, chief of radiological health training at the Taft Sanitary Engineering Center in Cincinnati, addressed an institute on X-ray protection at Caltech Tuesday and advocated use of a cone to limit the size of X-ray beams and an aluminum sheet in front of the machines to filter weak rays otherwise absorbed by the patient.

Fast Talking Actress Back In Film Land

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Miriam Hopkins, that 60 m.p.h. talker from Savannah, is back making a movie after a decade off the screen.

She is playing—get this—her own aunt. Explanation: In "The Children's Hour," she is the aunt of Shirley MacLaine, who has the role Miss Hopkins played when the Lillian Hellman drama was filmed in 1936 as "These Three."

Complicated? You bet. So is listening to Miss Hopkins, who can rattle on charmingly about almost anything. The best way to interpret her is to turn the tape on and pick selections at random:

"The earlier picture? Oh, dear, we're not supposed to talk about that. No, I guess it's all right, because I heard Willie Wyler (who directed both versions) talking about it on the set."

"What do I remember about it? Silly little things having to do with a woman's vanity. I remember one train scene in which I wore one of those hats that clung to the head and came down over one eye. I remember telling myself, 'Oh, goodie, now I'll look like Marlene Dietrich.'"

"Me temperamental? I never was. Proof of that is that I made four pictures with Willie Wyler, who is a very demanding director. I made two with Rouben Mamoulian, who is the same. Two with Ernst Lubitsch, such a dear man."

"Has Hollywood changed? Honestly, I wouldn't know. I've kept coming out here to do TV shows and stage tours, so I wouldn't be able to see the change."

"But I seldom lived here. I've had a New York house for 24 years. I remember how angry Sam Goldwyn was when I bought it after signing a contract with him."

"I'm having a perfectly wonderful time on the picture. Shirley MacLaine is great fun and Audrey Hepburn is a dear. And James Garner—I heard him and Audrey rehearsing a scene one day. I closed my eyes to see if it rang true. I said to myself, 'Yes, young man, you're going to make it.'"

Foxes Free-load On Zoo Birds; Hunt Scheduled

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tallyho. It's fox hunting time at the National Zoo.

The foxes, unwelcome guests on the 169-acre reservation, are free-loading on the zoo's bird population. In recent weeks the foxes and some alien raccoons have dined on four ducks, two pheasants and one South American flamingo—much to the dismay of Zoo Director Theodore H. Reed.

"Some of these foxes are smarter than we are," said Reed sadly. "They ignore live traps."

But don't put on the red coat and saddle up. Reed says there will be no tooling of the huntsmen's horn or any of that yoyks stuff.

The foxes will be hunted by police with guns.

Bell to Call Congo Natives to Church

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—The Gulf, Mobile & Ohio Railroad has presented a locomotive bell to a Mobile church group to use in calling natives to worship.

Missionary David Miller, who is stationed in the Congo, recently wrote a youth group at Mobile's Government Street Presbyterian church: "We can't use wooden drums any more to call people to church, because they are now being used to call people to war."

He asked the group for help in locating church bells and old railroad engine bells.

Gobel and Partner Sell Share In Show

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Television comic George Gobel and partner David O'Malley Tuesday sold their 50 per cent share in the TV series, "Leave It to Beaver," for $1 million.

Revue productions, the purchaser, now owns the ABC-TV series outright. "Beaver" recently completed its fourth year.

Gobel and O'Malley, doing business as Gomalco Productions, said they decided to sell because the comic now is busy preparing for a Broadway show.

Accidents

Following too close was given as the primary cause of a two-car accident on Highway 65 about three miles north of Sedalia at 11:05 a.m. Tuesday.

Involved were a 1955 Cadillac being driven by Gary A. Evert, 18, Carrollton, and a 1961 Dodge being driven by Carol T. Major, Star Route. Both cars were traveling south, according to Trooper Richard Joos of Missouri State Highway Patrol, who made the investigation.

Joos said the Dodge was following a string of traffic, and slowed down as the cars in front slowed down. As the traffic approached the Central Missouri College building, the driver of the Dodge applied his brakes. The Cadillac collided with the rear of the Dodge.

The rear of the Dodge was slightly damaged, and the front of the Cadillac was extensively damaged, Joos said.

Evert was charged with careless and imprudent driving by following too close.

Wheat Yields Available To Figure Payment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Robert Dole, R-Kan., said the Department of Agriculture notified him it is making available to county committees today the average yield of wheat by counties and payment rates in connection with its 1962 support program.

Dole said a farmer who knows the average yield of his farm can use the data and determine the amount of payment he would receive for the 10 per cent mandatory cut in acreage provided in the 1962 program.

Farmers will vote Aug. 24 on whether they want the program.

Dole had urged the department to make the yield and payment figures available before the referendum.

and held it to 62 for the high of the day at 3 o'clock. The damp, chilly air kept state fair visitors on the move throughout the day.

It being Legislators' Day, there were slightly more than 350 of the Missouri lawmakers and their families in attendance in spite of the rainy day. A surprisingly large number of St. Louisians were also in attendance and enjoying every minute of the fair with the exception of missing out on the grand circuit harness races which were postponed due to the heavy track. Missouri Farmers Association members who were here for the MFA Day likewise were strong in numbers.

In spite of the chilly air the State Fair Revue of 1961 in front of the grandstand went on as scheduled as the night show. The spectators brought with them blankets and heavy coats and an exceptionally large crowd attended.

Gov. Hilary Bush, Kansas City, Senator James Trimble, president pro-tem of the Senate, and Thomas Graham, Speaker of the House of Representatives, were the honored guests among the lawmakers. The legislators were guests of the fair at a noon luncheon and dinner at the Sedalia Country Club at which the representatives had with them as their guests the various queen of fairs, here competing for the Missouri Queen of Fairs honor.

The grand champion in the Future Farmers of America farm mechanics competition went to August Riecke, Belle, Mo., for his 4-wheel rubber tired farm wagon. He built the wagon in 40 hours at a cost of $50.

The Polled Hereford show which was considered about as evenly matched show ever held here, saw Burford Polled Hereford Farm at Caledonia, Mo., taking the champion bull honors of the show with AAB Buford Mixer. OOR Miss DW 85T94, shown by Double O Ranch, Dix, Ill., took the champion female honors.

Lawson Tjardes, Gibson, Ill., was the winner of the premier exhibitor honors, based on points given for placings won in the show.

Paul Bleich, California, Mo., had the grand champion bull in the FFA Brown Swiss dairy cattle. Larry Cook of Ozark showed the grand champion female. In the Milking Shorthorn of the FFA state fair competition only four entries were shown, those by Robert Batson of Willard, Mo.

Top individual Guernsey animals of the FFA show went to Jerry Estes of Rogersville, Mo., who had both the grand champion bull and female. The brothers also received plaques for the showmanship and fitting abilities.

Helped By Youngsters

AURORA, Ill. (AP)—The Aurora chapter of the American Red Cross received a letter that radiated the warmth of a child's heart.

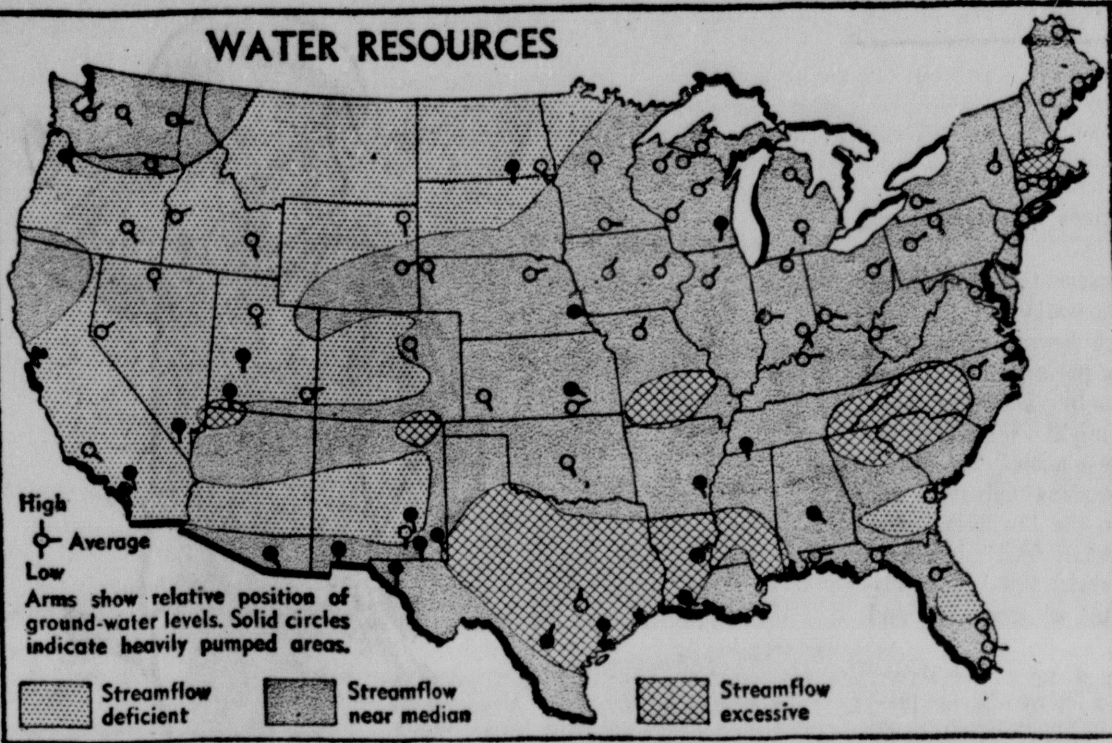

"We are a group of children who have formed a club," it read. "We have been collecting dues and now have $1.07 in our treasury. We are sending the $1.07 to you to help the poor people of the world."

"Yours truly,
"The Mysterious (sic) Tree Club."

Lorraine Smith — she's 9, president and very businesslike—told a reporter Monday that the club was founded underneath a tree in the yard of the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Smith.

They decided to call it the Mysterious Tree Club because they were not sure what kind of tree sheltered them from the summer sun.

The six members, ranging in age from 5 to 10, pay dues of but as much more as they like," our money," Lorraine said. "Red not less than two cents a day. "We decided what to do with Cross needs money because it helps people all over the world."

The letter prompted Edward Siebert, 1961 Aurora fund chairman of the Red Cross, to present a merit award to the club.

Lorraine reported the meetings still are being held.

"We first collect the dues," she said. "Then a story, then play some games, then coloring."

The members also have solved

the mystery of the tree. "My mother," Lorraine said, "told me."

It's a catalpa.

Humanitarian Fruit

Grave questions are being asked in the churches concerning the future of Christian missions.

The virtual wiping out of the extensive and apparently deeply rooted missionary work in China is only part of the problem. Other areas in the world upheaval have been similarly if not as completely affected. In addition Christianity and Christians now take a more tolerant and friendly approach to other religions and their adherents once regarded as "pagan."

Much of this interest is in a liberal, inquiring and constructive spirit. But in conservative circles there is evidently a deep concern about the nature, message and purpose of Christian missions. Especially there is a troubled attitude about a change in the original missionary spirit and purpose. One theologian deplores the apparent lessening of the concern for "lost souls," which had been the missionaries' main incentive. And along with this, the weakening of the theological doctrines of salvation and damnation.

For that loss this conservative thinker apparently sees no compensation in the "humanitarian fruit," which he concedes to be increasingly a product of present-day missions and upon which he seems to place little value.

It is a challenge that might well be emphasized. There is a vagueness about "lost souls," some deep questioning about salvation and damnation in relation to the "heathen." But the need for "humanitarian fruit" is everywhere apparent in a world filled with violence and hatred, so full of ignorance and narrowness and ill will.

If, in general, heathen at home and abroad might be raised to a higher humanitarian level it might be the gateway to a larger and meaningful salvation.

The one certainty is that there is a vast missionary field still available for missionaries of vision and good will, and the heathendom of yesterday never offered a greater challenge.

Ike's Berlin Views Were Different

(Editor's Note: While Drew Pearson is in Russia to cover the current crisis, his associate, Jack Anderson, is covering the Washington Front.)

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — The advice Gen. Maxwell Taylor is now giving President Kennedy for meeting the Berlin threat was rejected on at least two occasions by former President Eisenhower.

This is the claim of Gen. Nathan Twining, the former Joint Chiefs' chairman, who has been sounding off privately about Taylor.

Twining relates how he personally escorted Taylor in to see Ike about building up conventional forces in Europe.

"This would just prolong our defeat in Europe from seven to 30 days," Twining quotes Ike as saying.

But Taylor kept pressing for the build-up until Twining took him back for a second session with Eisenhower. Again, Ike objected that beefed-up ground forces couldn't stop the Red Army from overrunning Europe, that five divisions were enough to symbolize America's commitment to defend free Europe.

Ships Escape Junkyard

The maritime mothball fleet would have been junked, leaving no ships to answer President Kennedy's recent call to the colors, if the maritime administration had been able to carry out former President Eisenhower's orders a year ago.

To save on the small maintenance budget, Ike wanted to get rid of all 1,400 reserve ships. His maritime chief, Vice Adm. Ralph E. Wilson, did everything but wield his own crowbar to carry out the order before a new administration moved into the White House.

But the steel industry was shutting down furnaces and had no market for the scrap. Wilson even sought to sell our reserve tonnage to foreign scrap dealers.

He was able to move only about 200 ships to the scrap yards, however, before his successor, Tom Stakem, called a halt. Otherwise the mothball fleet, now needed to bolster our forces to meet the Communist challenge in Berlin, might have been sunk.

Note — Wilson also tried to empty government warehouses of ship supplies — blankets, sheets, towels, galley ware, etc. — for a few pennies on the dollar. He snorted: "We may have to subsidize the American Merchant Marine, but we are not going to subsidize American moths."

Stevenson Letter Backfires

Under Secretary of State Chester Bowles came back from his overseas trip deeper than ever in President Kennedy's doghouse.

While he was safely out of the country, Bowles encouraged friends to write the President demanding he be kept on the job.

One who cheerfully agreed to write was Adlai Stevenson. When the President asked Stevenson why he did it, the United Nations

SENATOR DODD'S WASHINGTON REPORT: Wrong Emphasis. — You have no doubt read a lot in the newspapers lately on the number of shows on television which exploit crime and violence. I am chairman of the Juvenile Delinquency Subcommittee which has been investigating just why there is such an emphasis on the "bad" in life.

We talked to a variety of people who in one capacity or another put these horror shows on the air. We found that they take a curious position. There is no force so powerful in all of mass communications, they say. It controls, indeed almost manipulates, public opinion. It is a great teacher. They properly take credit for all the good that is derived from TV — and it does a great deal of good. But by some curious turn of mind, they argue the violence it portrays leaves no impression on the mind of the viewer.

They want credit for the good, but no responsibility for the failures.

We have uncovered substantial evidence that if television viewing can improve a child's vocabulary, it similarly can teach how to throw a rabbit punch.

The public — YOU — own the airways, but the fast-buck boys who put on these horror shows apparently never learned this. I have in the committee files a case of 22 killings in a one-hour show — which actually runs only 48 minutes. That's a murder every 24 minutes. Next season will it be a corpse a minute?

I do not believe the people of Connecticut are the people one TV executive was referring to when he said, "We only give them what they want." People I know do not feel that brutal beatings murder and extortion are the highest form of entertainment.

Over the Falls

The nation must greet with some sadness the news that the last Honeymoon Special train has run between Buffalo and Niagara Falls in New York.

It doesn't mean that people have stopped having honeymoons, or even stopped going to Niagara Falls for them. Undoubtedly countless honeymooners still are drawn there. They just don't use the train.

But beyond that, the day is clearly passing when a joke about Niagara Falls will register with everybody. Such gay simplicities are vanishing from American life in many fields.

A good many Americans today have the money for honeymoons in far more distant and more varied places. They seem to search more for the excitement of the exotic.

Yet for others, especially some of the older ones, the bright early promise of marriage will always be linked with Niagara's crashing sound.

Top-Notch

We don't hear our foreign service officers assailed so often today as "striped pants" boys unfit to speak and work for the United States overseas. It may be just as well.

Our potential representatives abroad are put through the most rigorous and exhaustive tests.

Drawn from hundreds of schools, some 8,000 applicants a year are asked to demonstrate their general intellectual capacity, facility with foreign language, grasp of history, economics, politics, powers as observers and reporters, talent for organizing both spoken and written thoughts, understanding of the meaning of this country and of freedom.

Only 200 of the 8,000 make it each year, and it's thought unlikely there are any "soft ones" among them.

Useful By-Product

Up in Canada this spring President Kennedy shoveled some earth and helped plant a tree. The other day New York's Gov. Nelson Rockefeller swung an axe and cut one down.

No reasonable stretch of the imagination is likely to turn up any political symbolism in these contrasting acts, though the two men are in rival parties and under certain circumstances could be rivals for the presidency in 1964.

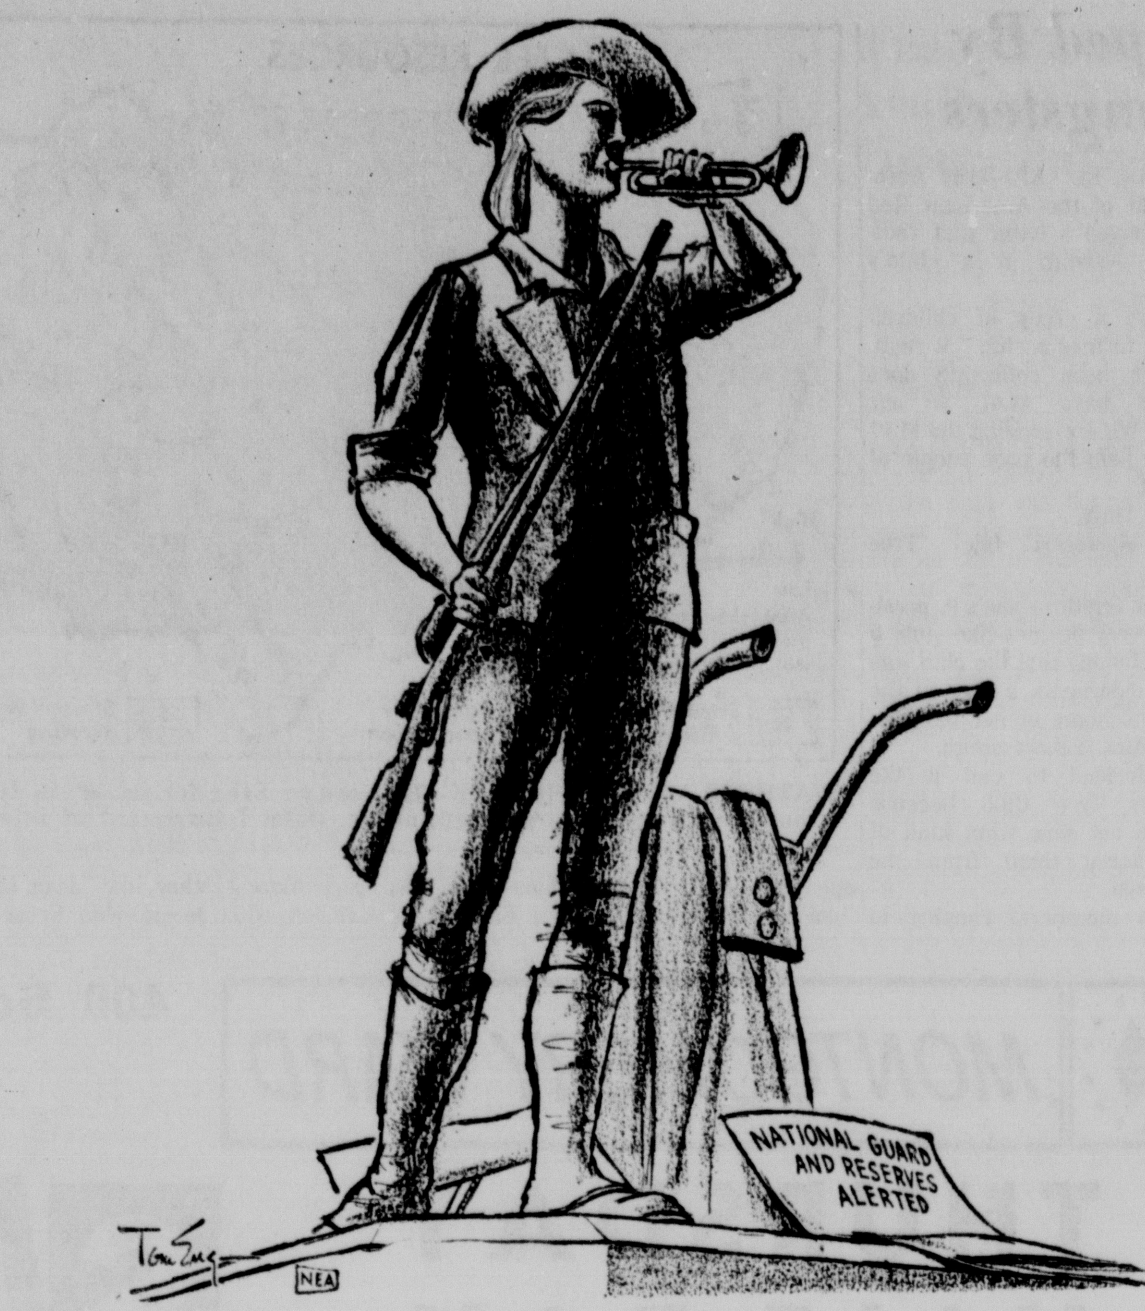

What can be said is that the "work motif" underscored by these little public efforts is a lot more sensible than the traditional but silly pictures of presidents, governors and the like wearing goofy hats, Indian feathers and similar inappropriate attire.

There's No Escape

The notion has been pretty general in the layman's world that ulcers are seriously affected, if not caused, by the tensions of present day life — not the least of which is the constant rubbing of elbows with other people.

Now come three-score stomach specialists to forecast, however, that when man soars into space he won't be able to escape the ailment. The stress of "aloneness, loneliness, boredom" will be too much for his stomach to bear.

Evidently there is no place to hide from excess acidity.

Rusk Has No Shine In Press Meetings

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — There are no vivid colors in the picture of Dean Rusk after watching him, reading him, and listening to him for seven months as secretary of state.

He has averaged one news conference a month in the State Department since taking office in January. The seventh was Tuesday. It was pretty dull, like those which went before.

This doesn't mean he is personally dull. But in dealing with press and public he has no shine.

He is a friendly, genial man, not aggressive, and certainly not belligerent. He is extremely articulate in the sense of speaking precisely at the very moment he is busy refraining from saying anything either very new or positive.

His news conference highlight was his statement that the big powers will negotiate with Russia on Berlin. But he had already said that last Sunday in a TV interview.

That was hardly news even on Sunday since he had already said pretty much the same Aug. 11 after returning from a foreign ministers meeting in Paris and a week before that, on Aug. 4, when he arrived in Paris for the meeting.

In short, he is not apt to put his foot in his mouth talking too much. If there is hazard in what he says it is that he will say too little instead of too much.

Thus he gives the impression of being more a foreign policy technician than a spokesman, more a pilot than a captain.

This leads to a conclusion which seemed apparent from the time Rusk took on this job where some of his predecessors had been very dominant characters, like Secretaries of State John Foster Dulles and Dean Acheson.

It suits Rusk fine to let President Kennedy make the big pronouncements and be the captain in practice as well as in fact. Yet, while Kennedy has made some positive statements on foreign policy, he, too, has been rather restrained.

This may prove both a good and effective way of handling foreign policy. But it isn't particularly stimulating. Except for Kennedy's TV talk on Berlin, it hasn't been notably vigorous. It could turn out to be much less than is needed.

Kennedy has seemed to this writer reluctant about talking directly to the people. His talk in June on Berlin was his first and only one. President Eisenhower made two in his first six months in office. President Roosevelt started his fireside chats at the end of the first week of his presidency.

While Rusk has appeared several times on TV interviews the system he is following—of saying very little while carrying on a very fluent conversation—hardly explains and certainly doesn't stir up enthusiasm.

Anti-Epileptic Drugs Do Not Cause Cancer

By Harold Thomas Hyman, M.D.

Q — Is it true that drugs used in the treatment of epilepsy often cause cancer?

A — It's decidedly untrue. The origin of this false assertion lies in the production of tissue overgrowths in certain areas, like the gums, when certain persons take anti-epileptic drugs of the hydant-oin series (Dilantin etc.). These overgrowths disappear as soon as the offending drug is stopped and another of a different chemical constitution is substituted.

What often causes confusion is failure of the patient to notify the dentist or a strange physician of the nature of his illness and the medication that is being taken. This ill-advised reluctance to give a correct history is understandable but not justifiable. The epileptic has nothing to hide. He harms only himself by withholding information that would instantly explain the origin of the tissue overgrowth.

Q — I wonder if you can settle a family argument. I've been an active participant in athletics all of my life. Now that I'm pregnant, my mother and my mother-in-law insist that I give up athletic competitions of all sorts. Is this necessary? Or even advisable?

A — A recent study at Columbia University confirms the opinions that many physicians have held, to these many years. In general, about nine or ten pregnancies proceed to term. When the one in ten does not, every possible excuse is advanced. Too much exercise. A blow on the abdomen. Fright. Travel by bus, train, car or airplane. Lack of consideration on the part of the husband. Too much consideration by the husband, etc. etc.

As a matter of fact, the Columbia study exonerates activities like dancing, bowling, riding, bicycling, skiing, gardening and even motor-cycling. During the war, each of us attended women who went through uncomplicated pregnancies despite travel by all sort of vehicles. Many women play tennis and golf until shortly before the baby arrives.

But who am I to take issue with so formidable a combination as your mother and your mother-in-law?

Q — I read in your column about the woman whose arms go to sleep when she sleeps on the opposite side. I have just the opposite problem. When I sleep on my right side, my right arm goes to sleep and when I sleep on my left side, my left arm goes numb. Both arms go numb when I sleep on my stomach and my legs and feet go to sleep when I sleep on my back. I am awake off and on all night turning back and forth. Any suggestions as to what I can do?

A — How about joining the Navy and sleeping in a hammock?

World Trade, Not Berlin, Looms As Number 1 Story

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — Appointment of Philadelphia banker Howard C. Petersen as special White House Assistant to develop a new international trade program marks the opening of the Kennedy administration drive for renewal of the reciprocal trade agreements program. Last renewed in 1958, the law expires June 30, 1962. A congressional battle is predicted that will make the current fight over foreign aid look like a preliminary bout.

World trade patterns are shifting faster than most people realize. And every American community where anything is produced that enters into competition with similar products made in a foreign country has a stake in the outcome.

The fact that President Kennedy has chosen a 51-year-old Republican lawyer to head up his White House staff on this effort is noteworthy. For much of the opposition to trade agreements comes from conservative manufacturers and businessmen.

Petersen came to Washington out of Indiana a little over 20 years ago as an assistant to the late Henry L. Stimson, another Republican, whom President F. D. Roosevelt named secretary of war.

When it was over, Petersen — then an assistant secretary of war — went on a mission with former Federal Reserve Board Chairman Thomas B. McCabe. Their job was to decide what to do with the billions of dollars' worth of Army and Navy supplies scattered all over the world.

McCabe, president of Scott Paper, was so impressed by Petersen's work that he suggested him for the presidency of big Fidelity-Philadelphia Trust Co. He was a prime money raiser for the Eisenhower campaigns and he rose in the councils of Committee for Economic Development — the progressive tycoon's research organization — becoming its vice president.

It is from this perch that he will take off to advise the Democratic Kennedy Administration on foreign trade policies.

These policies have been developing amazingly on several fronts that may seem to have little direct connection with reciprocal trade agreements extension, but do.

When the 1961 News Roundups are written, it is now freely predicted that the biggest story of the year will be — not the Berlin crisis — but the British decision to join the European Common Market.

This may seem remote from American interests but it is not. It is considered a long step toward the development of a United Europe. From the U. S. viewpoint, this is considered a most desirable move to establish western world security.

The Common Market with Britain in it will require major readjustments in British Commonwealth and all European trade patterns. It will also create another mass market which will compete with and discriminate against American products.

One solution to this problem may be the reduction of tariff barriers to the lowest possible levels. This is where the extension of U. S. reciprocal trade agreements comes in.

Another large area where development of new international trade policies has been given much consideration was in the Inter-American Finance Ministers Conference in Montevideo, Uruguay, to set up the Alliance for Progress.

A major topic there was the development of commodity agreements which may help stabilize the markets of Latin America's principal exports — coffee, tin, copper, wool.

What has become immediately apparent, however, is that these things can't be settled on a Western Hemisphere basis. For other continents produce these commodities, and there must be world agreements if they are to be effective.

There is, finally, the new challenge of the Soviet bloc in world trade. So far, Communist countries have refused to participate in international trade agreements. But as their economies develop, they will have some surpluses to offer on world markets. Soviet oil is the prime example today.

Meeting this competition which the Communists wage as economic warfare is one of the most important problems to work out in the development of the new U. S. and free world trade policies for the future assuming there is to be a peaceful world.

Democrat Pick-ups

By News Staff

Somebody turned on the television and it wasn't working. Everybody was put out because they couldn't see the ball game, so they sent for the television man. It didn't take him but a minute to fix it, however. All he did was plug it in and it worked perfectly. —H. L.

Metric Men Snagged By Survey Cost

WASHINGTON (AP)—To hear its supporters talk, you'd think anybody with a gram of sense would favor adopting the metric system of weights and measures in the United States.

But Rep. George P. Miller, D-Calif., a strong metric man, admitted today he has about given up until next year hope for congressional action on a first-step bill he has introduced. He got another setback Monday.

Miller's trouble is Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, who won't touch with a three-meter pole any legislation which to his searching eye appears to call for unnecessary expenditures, or create unnecessary jobs.

Miller's proposal is for the National Bureau of Standards to conduct a program of investigation and research on the practicability of adopting the metric system for general use in this country. It would authorize $500,000 for the purpose.

Gross, who never hides his economy light under a liter measure, pounced on that $500,000 item. Miller got his bill enthusiastically endorsed by the House Committee on Science and Astronautics and tried to have it passed Aug. 7 by the House under hurry-up procedures requiring unanimous consent.

Gross blocked that. Miller then reasoned with Gross dwelling on the decimal advantages of the metric system and the fact that the vast majority of nations have made it their standard.

When Miller tried again Monday to get unanimous consent to pass the bill, it developed Gross hadn't budged a centimeter.

If 90 per cent of the people of the world have adopted the metric system and its advantages are so obvious, Gross asked the House, "What do we need with a half-million dollar survey? I suggest the committee just bring out a bill putting it into effect—say, in five years."

Once again he blocked Miller's measure.

Data Flurry Coming From Explorer XII

WASHINGTON (AP)—As the newest U.S. satellite, Explorer XII, wheels through its orbit in space, it is transmitting scientific data at a greater rate than any other space craft. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration in announcing the achievement said Monday there are two reasons for the "windmill" satellite's success. One is the complexity and versatility of its instruments designed to observe magnetic fields and their relationship to radiation particles that zip through space and may be hazards to rocket travelers.

The other is tremendous length of its orbit, which takes the Explorer about 26½ hours to travel from its low point of 180 miles above earth to its most distant point of 47,800 miles.

Finley Fires Lane As Athletics' G-M

Payola Charges On Two Star Sports Writers

Pace Is Set For Maris In 30 Contests

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

One home run every 10.09 at-bats will do it.

That's the pace Roger Maris has to keep through the next 30 games to break Babe Ruth's home run record after hitting his 50th Tuesday night as the New York Yankees lost 4-3 at Los Angeles.

With his two-run, sixth-inning shot off right-hander Ken McBride, Maris went 13 games ahead of Ruth's record-60 pace of 1927. The young slugger now needs only 11 more in the Yankees' next 30 games to break the Babe's record within the official limit of 154 team decisions set by Commissioner Ford Frick.

In 124 games this season, Roger has been at bat 455 times for an average of 3.7 a game. Assuming he can avoid bases on balls Maris would have 111 at bats in those 30 games, averaging out to one home run every 10.09 at-bats.

His 50 home runs in 455 at-bats figures out at one every 9.1 at-bat. If the figures don't lie, Maris can waste an extra at-bat between home runs the rest of the way.

Teammate Mickey Mantle, who failed to connect as the Angels shaved the Yankees' American League lead over second-place Detroit to two games, has 46 homers. Based on the same projection formula used for Maris, the Mick would have to hit a home run every seven at-bats to get the 15 he needs to top Ruth. So far, Mantle has hit one every 9.2 at-bats.

The Tigers closed in on the Yankees by winning their fifth in a row, 8-1, at Cleveland. Third-place Baltimore lost 3-2 in 10 innings at Kansas City, the Chicago White Sox took over fourth place by beating Minnesota 4-3, and Boston defeated Washington 3-2 in 11 innings.

In the National League, third-place San Francisco stayed hot and swept a two-night pair from Cincinnati 12-2 and 5-3. That trimmed the Reds' lead over Los Angeles to 2½ games, although the Dodgers dropped their eighth in a row, 5-4 at St. Louis. Pittsburgh whipped Milwaukee 4-1 and the Philadelphia Phillies rapped the Chicago Cubs 6-0.

Maris' home run, a 420-foot drive over the center field fence—the only deep section in cozy Wrigley Field—was his second in seven games at the Angels' park and ruined a shutout by McBride, who finally won his 10th on the eighth try. Yogi Berra hit a ninth-inning home run for the other Yank run.

The Angels, tying Minnesota for seventh place, ripped into Bill Stafford (10-7) for three runs in the first inning on a leadoff triple by Albie Pearson and consecutive home runs by Lee Thomas and Leon Wagner. Earl Averill tagged reliever Luis Arroyo for a homer in the eighth for the final run.

Detroit also did it with homers, two-run shots by Rocky Colavito, Billy Bruton and Al Kaline that backed a five-hit pitching job by Paul Foytack (8-8). Jim Grant (12-7) was the loser.

Nellie Fox drove in the tying run with a sacrifice fly in the seventh inning and then won it for the White Sox when he singled with two out in the ninth against Pedro Ramos (9-15). Don Larson (4-1) was the winner with 5 1-3 innings of four-hit, shutout relief.

Marv Throneberry's two-run pinch homer in the eighth broke up a three-hit shutout for A's starter Norm Bass and gave the Orioles a tie, but Milt Pappas (9-7) wild-pitched the winning run home in the 10th. Bill Fischer (4-2) was the winner in relief.

A two-out walk to Jackie Jensen on a 3-2 pitch with the bases loaded forced in the Red Sox' winner and beat Bennie Daniels (8-7). Mike Fornieles (7-8) was the winning pitcher in relief.

Maris Needs 11 More

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Roger Maris of the New York Yankees hit his 50th home run Tuesday night and needs only 11 more in the Yanks' next 30 games to break Babe Ruth's record of 60.

Maris' 50th came with a man on base in the sixth inning against right-hander Ken McBride as the Yankees lost 4-3 at Los Angeles.

It put him 13 games ahead of Ruth's record pace of 1927.

Mickey Mantle, Maris' teammate, failed to connect and still has 46. Mantle is seven games ahead of Ruth's pace.

$1,000 a year to edit the A's yearbook and McGuff $500 as statistician.

Mehl said he had never accepted travel expenses and that he, not Finley, decided this season that McGuff's expenses would no longer be paid by the baseball club. He said McGuff had accepted expenses when keeping statistics for the club on the road.

Giants Perk Up, Contend for Lead

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Do the San Francisco Giants have "The Little Miracle of Frisco Bay" in mind as a sequel to "The Little Miracle of Coogan's Bluff" which they staged back in New York 10 years ago?

That off-Broadway success of 1951 had them coming from 13½ games behind on August 11, nailing a tie on the final day of the season and whipping the then Brooklyn Dodgers in a playoff for the National League flag.

At the moment, after slouching in third place, 8½ games from the top on August 11, the Giants suddenly have perked up, winning 9 of 11 and 5 in a row with a sweeping, 12-2 and 5-3 double-header success over first-place Cincinnati Tuesday night. That jumped the Giants within 5 games of the Reds, who have lost 3 in a row for the first time in a month.

Half-way between Cincinnati and San Francisco stand the Los Angeles Dodgers, who are 2½ games back of the Reds after losing 5-4 at St. Louis. It was the Dodgers' eighth consecutive defeat—their longest skid since 1948.

Pittsburgh rapped Milwaukee 4-1 and last-place Philadelphia dropped the Chicago Cubs 6-0 behind the one-hit pitching of Art Mahaffey.

In the American League, Roger Maris hit his 50th home run, going 13 games ahead of Babe Ruth's record-60 pace of 1927, but the New York Yankees lost 4-3 at Los Angeles. Second-place Detroit closed within two games of the Yanks by drubbing Cleveland 8-1. Kansas City beat Baltimore 3-2 in 10 innings, the Chicago White Sox defeated Minnesota 4-3 and Boston beat Washington 3-2 in 11 innings.

Willie Mays, the lone holdover from the Giants' miracle men of 1951, set the pace with five hits in the opener at Cincinnati, one a two-run homer. And then clinched the sweep with his 33rd home run. A two-run shot in the sixth inning of the second game. Willie McCovey belted a pair of solo home runs in the first game as the Giants collected 20 hits, and Orlando Cepeda, who drove in two runs in the opener, socked his 35th home run in the nightcap.

matter of fact

With rapid beats of their enlarged and powerful front fins, "flying fish" seem to be half bird as they skim over the ocean. They sail about 200 yards before hitting the water again. It looks like great fun, but the fish's reason for flying isn't playful. Scientists say the flying fish takes to the air to evade the jaws of hungry enemies.

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Tommy Bolt was scheduled to appear before the Professional Golfers Association's committee today to determine whether his current suspension would be lifted.

The suspension was handed down after the PGA Championship Tournament in Chicago three weeks ago. It was alleged Bolt used off-color language in the presence of club members at Olympia Fields.

Cardinals Down Dodgers; A's Win On Wild Pitch

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The St. Louis Cardinals were badly out-hit but the Redbirds took advantage of a last-minute error in grabbing a 5-4 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers at Busch Stadium.

Jim Rivera scored from third on a wild pitch by Milt Pappas in the 10th inning Tuesday night as the Athletics downed Baltimore 3-2 at Kansas City.

It was the eighth loss in a row for the Dodgers who out-hit the Cards 16-6, but trailed until they tied it in the ninth.

Then the Cards won the ballgame in their half of the final frame without a hit.

Dick Farrell, the fourth Dodger pitcher and the loser, walked pinch hitter Joe Cunningham. Alex Grammas sacrificed Cunningham to second. Pinch hitter Red Schoendienst was intentionally walked and Bob Lillis came in to run for Cunningham.

Carl Sawatski, another pinch-hitter, grounded to Charley Neal and the runners advanced to second and third.

Then Neal booted Julian Javier's easy grounder and Lillis scored. Lindy McDaniel, who relieved Larry Jackson in the ninth, was the winner. He's now 9-5.

Bill White hit his 16th home run in the second inning.

Rivera had opened the A's 10th with a walk. He went to second on a Bill Fischer sacrifice and took third on Dick Howser's fly to right field.

Then Pappas threw a low ball to Wayne Causey that hit the dirt in front of the plate and Rivera slid home.

Norm Bass, the Athletic starter, had a three-hitter until Marv Throneberry hit a two-run pinch homer in the eighth.

Fischer relieved Bass in the ninth and was credited with the win. He retired the six men that faced him.

Pappas allowed only four hits, all singles.

Lowell Shocks Galleries, Drops Defending One

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — Like a girl stepping from rock to slippery rock across a rushing stream, 17-year-old Mary Lowell of Hayward, Calif., moved from champion to champion today in her ambitious attempt to add the USGA Women's Amateur title to the National Junior golf crown she won last week in Seattle.

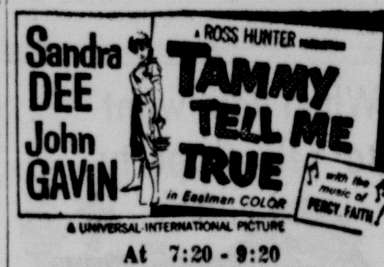

She shocked the galleries and the other players Tuesday by eliminating JoAnne Gunderson of Seattle, the defending queen of American golf, 1-up on the 19th hole.

Today she met Judy Hoetmer of Seattle, National Collegiate champion, in the third round of match play. A second round this afternoon carries the survivors into the quarterfinals Thursday.

Left in the field were two former National Women's champions, the Canadian champion and Britain's No. 1 Curtis Cup player. The latter, Elizabeth Price of Farnham, England, was carried to 21 holes Tuesday by Doris Phillips of Belleville, Ill.

Mrs. Anne Quast Decker of Seattle, 1958 champion, played three-under-par golf to defeat Sharon Fladoos of Dubuque, Iowa, 4 and 2. Barbara McIntire of Wichita, Kan., the 1959 champion, ousted Sue Maxwell of Oklahoma City, 4 and 2. Canadian champion Janet McWha of Vancouver beat Mrs. Martin Fopp of Tacoma, 3 and 1.

But all these former champions must share the spotlight with a couple of Southern candidates — Judith Eller of Old Hickory, Tenn., and 14-year-old Roberta Albers of Tampa, Fla. They tangled today. Miss Eller eliminated Andrea Cohn of Waterloo, Iowa, Tuesday. Miss Albers whipped Mrs. Henry Hulscher of Tacoma 4 and 3.

Take Honors For Turning In Clutch Plays

COLUMBIA (AP) — Bus Entsminger, a quarterback, and half-back Norris Stevenson turned in the outstanding clutch plays or performances in Missouri football over the past 15 years.

Entsminger and Stevenson won the honor in a poll of 12 sports-writers and broadcasters conducted by Bill Callahan, Missouri sports publicity director.

Entsminger, now director of alumni activities at Missouri, was cited for his leadership in the Tigers' 20-14 victory over Doak Walker and Southern Methodist in 1948.

SMU had won 16 straight games and the loss to Missouri was its only defeat in 1948 as Walker repeated his All-America honors. Stevenson netted 169 rushing yards in Missouri's 41-19 victory over Oklahoma at Norman last season. He had touchdown runs of 77 and 60 yards. It was Missouri's first victory over Oklahoma since 1945.

Other players cited, in order, included:

Bob Haas, who quarterbacked the Tigers for a 78-yard touchdown drive in slightly more than two minutes in a 20-15 upset of Michigan in 1959.

End Dale Pidcock and line-backer Ron Toman for their clutch defense in Missouri's 1959 victory over Kansas.

Norman Beal, halfback, for his 90-yard runback of a pass interception in Missouri's 21-14 Orange Bowl victory over Navy last Jan. 2.

Chuck Mehrer, tackle, defense against Kansas in Missouri's 15-13 victory in 1956.

Expects Owner To Keep Using Coaches' Board

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Elvin Tappe, head coach of the Chicago Cubs, said today he expects owner Phil Wrigley will continue next year to use a board of coaches to run the club with a slight modification in the system adopted this season.

"We'll probably still have rotating coaches (from the Cubs to minor leagues affiliates)," said Tappe, "but the head man would be the head coach the whole year and stay with the parent club."

Tappe, who took over as head coach just before the first All-Star Game last July, said he expects to remain in that capacity the rest of the season.

Tappe said Wrigley had not discussed plans for next year with him.

8 Women Enrolled At Medical College

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Jefferson Medical College has enrolled eight women students—the first accepted at the institution in its 137-year history — among the class scheduled to attend opening exercises on Sept. 11.

Jefferson is believed to be the last of the country's all-male medical schools to go coeducational. There have been women teachers, interns, residents and postgraduate students at the college in the past, but never an undergraduate coed.

Says Mass Will Be Recited In English Soon

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—The vice president of the Liturgical Conference says the day is fast approaching when Roman Catholic priests in this country will say mass entirely in English.

The Rev. Aloysius F. Wilmes, pastor of St. Mark's Church in St. Louis, made his remarks Tuesday during the 22nd annual North American Liturgical Week.

"We have witnessed a great deal of liturgical reform in the past 25 years, particularly in the past 10," Father Wilmes said, "and we can expect much more in the future."

The language of the mass is Latin but many parishes have been conducting the "dialogue mass" since 1958.

In the dialogue mass, a reader leads the congregation in participating in certain parts of the mass which have been paraphrased in English.

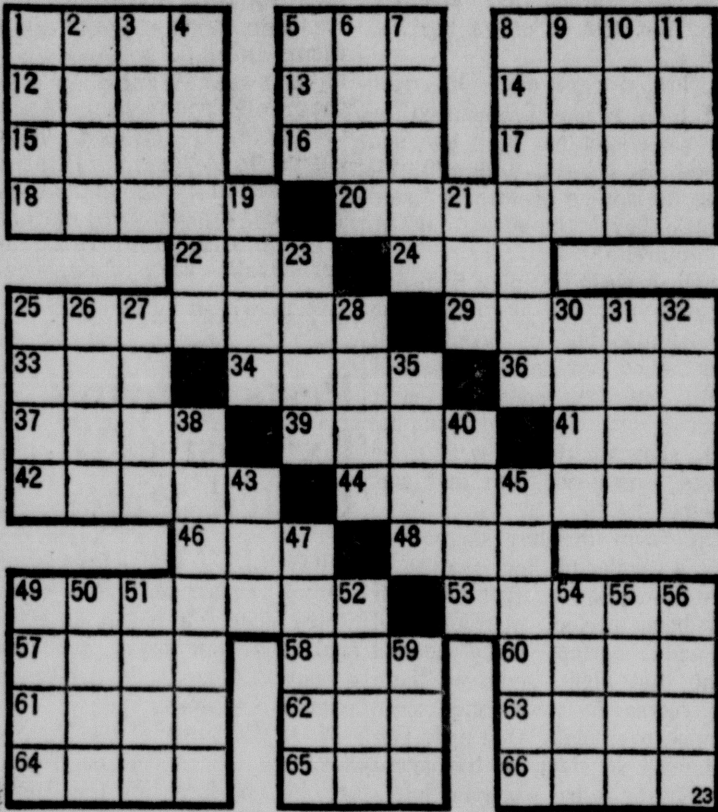

"The mass in English will be a great thing for our people," Father Wilmes said.

98 Farm Families Honored At Missouri's State Fair

Farm Family Day at the Missouri State Fair Monday was a big success officials reported, with 98 families from all over the state and a total of 430 persons attending.

During the morning the farm families began to arrive and registered at the Farm Family tent. There were three families with seven children each and two families each had a set of twins.

After registration the families went their way to see the exhibits and things of interest on the grounds. When they all returned to the tent where at 1 p.m. they went to the grandstand to see the Grand Circuit races. There was special music and acts during the race program and an intermission.

It was here that the awards were made to the following: Mr. and Mrs. Don Whistle, Sikeston, Scott County, with six in family coming a total of 350 passenger miles; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence McBryde, Jackson, Cape Girardeau County, family of six coming a total of 268 miles.

The couple married the longest was given an award, too. This was Mr. and Mrs. Ed Weaver, Birch Tree, Oregon County, who have been married 45 years. They have lived on the same farm the entire time, although part of the time they were in a different county because the farm is on the border of the adjoining county, and the house they lived in was across the line. The parents of five children, all married, the oldest daughter died leaving two children, whom they raised. They have 14 grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Another couple, Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Siebenthaler, Cedar Creek, Taney County, were married just one year less—44 years.

After the races the farm families gathered in the street just outside the grandstand and led by a Highway Patrol car, went to the farm machinery exhibit.

Here they had a delightful bit of entertainment by the Browning Kids from Lee's Summit. The six unusually pretty Browning girls, all with beautiful smiles, most of them with dimples, and all with dark hair, danced and sang. The girls are Carol Ann, 17; Nancy 16; Mary Margaret, 14; Linda, 13; Patty, 11; and Barbara, 9. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Browning and the father has a clothing store in Lee's Summit. As a rule their mother plays the piano for them, but this time the accompanist on the organ was Johnny Kennen of Joplin.

All of the girls play musical instruments too, but it looked so much like rain that they had put their instruments away and did the dancing and singing act. Along with the six sisters are two small brothers, the youngest of the family, E. C., who is 7, and Robert, 5. Both of them play the drums in the act, but since the instruments had to be put away they put on a little act of their own. The father also plays instruments and serves as master-of-ceremonies. The family group puts on an hour program ordinarily and Monday was their last day at the fair. But, they are coming back in September to the Sedalia area for the Stover Fair.

They have been appearing at fairs and other engagements throughout western Missouri and some in adjoining states. Prizes were given following the program with the winners being: Mr. and Mrs. Max Mauss, Camdenton County, set of iron gates from Danuser Company, Fulton; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wilkerson, Caldwell County, International Harvester Co.; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence McBryde, Cape Girardeau County, Hawkeye Steel Products, Waterloo, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Clarkson, Macon County, Parkhurst Manufacturing Co., Sedalia; Mr. and Mrs. John Davis, Montgomery County, Koehner Manufacturing Co., Tipton; Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Gable, Jr., Phelps County, Pioneer Seed Company; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sifford, Stoddard County, Bill Von Demfange; Mr. and Mrs. Otto Buchholz, Berry County, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Crenhardt, Johnson County; Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Helton, Maries County; Mr. and Mrs. Orville Griffith, Pike County; Mr. and Mrs. Avis West, Pulaski County; Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Williams, Shannon County; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Herman, Webster County; and Mr. and Mrs. Kelton Shipley, Worth County, gifts from Maczuk, Inc.

The families were then taken by shuttle bus to the home of W. H. Ritzenthaler, secretary of the fair, and Mrs. Ritzenthaler. As the group waited for the shuttle bus a small girl was lost, and as Miss Opal O'Brian, Pettis County Home Agent, took her to look for her mother a little boy came up to the little girl and said: "Deanne, you're lost," as if she didn't know it. But he took her back to her mother.

At the Ritzenthaler home there were plenty of chairs to take care of the families under the shade trees in the yard. Schell Bodenhamer, State Agent of the Missouri Extension Department of the Missouri University, served as master-of-ceremonies, and introduced special guests: Mr. and Mrs. Ritzenthaler, who welcomed the families, Lt. Governor Hilary Bush, who stated this was one of the finest fairs in the world; Don Thomson, commissioner of agriculture and his family, who also welcomed the farm families; Jean Rogers, Clinton County, 1961 Missouri Farm Bureau queen; Smokey Woods, Farm Bureau; Woodrow Chism, Jefferson City; Olen Monsees, president of the Missouri State Farm Bureau and Mrs. Monsees; Warren Fugua and Margaret Schoenberg, of the Missouri Farm Bureau; Lloyd Lewellen, Pettis County Associate Extension Agent; Miss Opal O'Brian, Pettis County Home Agent; Gertrude McFarland, secretary to Mr. Ritzenthaler; and Betty Sparks, Missouri Pork Queen.

Betty Sparks is 19, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sparks, Monroe City, the Farm Family member from Marion County. The fourth member of the family is her brother.

ther. Betty was first chosen Poland Pork Queen, and then at the Missouri State Fair won in the competition over other breeds the title of Missouri Pork Queen. She will go to the International Exposition in Chicago in November to compete for the national title.

Entertainment was a song by the Redmond sisters, Barbara, Linda and Mary Ann, of St. Joseph, who sang: "Sugar Time."

Invocation was by Mrs. Olen Monsees.

The guests then formed two lines and were served a ham dinner cafeteria style. The children, most of them were tired waiting in line and hungry. Several of them had on fair hats with the long feathers and one youngster hit her mother in the face with the feather every time she turned her head—so Mom just took it off of her and held it.

It looked very much like rain and then a clown appeared on the scene—got out of a car and raised his colorful umbrella. "It must be raining over there," said a little boy, "the clown put up his umbrella."

Well, it wasn't raining then and it didn't rain until just before the last shuttle bus of people left. They stood up inside most of them, but everybody got wet, never-the-less and cold, but the horse show where they were to be guests, was inside, and that was a help.

The farm families seemed to have a wonderful time, showing it even more than in other years. It had been perfect weather until the rain started. Many headed home that night, some of them had rooms in town and some camped over night. One little boy who went to sleep at the horse show never knew when he left—even though he walked out—he was still fast asleep.

The Pettis County farm family was Mr. and Mrs. Murray Wood, Jimmy, Ruth Ann and Pat, and they had a grand time—especially Pat, the youngest member of the family.

US Gains In Space Race; Big Heart for Tiny Bird

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
New U.S. steps in the space race, the big heart of a hummingbird, the heavy starch of the Soviet diet are subjects for science at work:

The Pace Quickens

In the wake of new Soviet space victories, the U.S. move to match Soviet rocket power grinds forward. Recent developments:

The first Saturn booster, a cluster of eight rocket engines with 1½ million pounds of thrust, arrived last week at Cape Canaveral. First flight tests may come in October for this rocket designed to put a three-man spaceship into orbit around the earth.

A new single rocket engine that matches Saturn's power is in the works at Huntsville, Ala. U.S. scientists expect to bind several of these mammoths together in a Nova rocket to carry man to the moon and back.

Contracts were announced to study new rockets, using solid instead of liquid fuels, for other huge rockets of the Nova class.

All of these new developments involve rockets at least 1½ to 12 times as powerful as the estimated strength of the Soviet man-carrying rocket.

Hummingbirds Hearts

The tiny hummingbird has plenty of heart. In fact for its body weight it probably has more heart than any other bird.

The heart of the hummingbird weighs up to 3 per cent as much as its total body, reports Dr. Frank A. Hartman of Ohio State University.

"The hummingbird is the acrobat among birds—none equal him in speedy maneuverability," he says. And the heart is most important of all the muscles. While a small heart limits activity, a large one means more staying power.

Soviet Diet

The Soviet daily diet averages 3,000 calories, U.S. nutritionists say. But it could use more protein and fat from meat and oils.

Fifty-six per cent of the diet is made up of potatoes and grains, 15 per cent by animal protein and 10 per cent each by sugar and by fat and oils. Soviet citizens eat six times as much bread as the average American. Part of the problem is raising and packaging the food.

Half of the Soviet population is engaged in food production. Canning and freezing are 30 years behind U.S. standards. Lack of refrigeration leads to use of fermented milk, and to half of all the meat being made into sausage.

Underwater Wireless

An underwater wireless that uses sound waves instead of radio waves to carry signals of the human voice has been developed by the Bendix Corp. It has a range of five miles.

The voice or other data is converted into electric impulses which are then amplified and converted into sound waves. The sound waves are then broadcast into the water, to be picked up by a receiving station.

Cockles and Mussels
Ninety per cent of all the fish in the world's oceans are what scientists call invertebrates—that is without backbone, like clams, oysters and shrimp.

Now many of them are being farmed scientifically. Oysters and clams, for example, are actually grown and harvested for food in sea farms. There are even experiments at farming shrimp.

Local tastes often determine the local catch in these kinds of seafood. Squid, which like clams and oysters is a mollusk, is popular in the Orient and southern Europe and now makes up more than a quarter of the 1,800,000 tons of mollusks harvested annually.
